Hongkona, April 9TH, 1886. Tan Vagrants Bill, as will be seen by the proceedings at the last meeting of t Legislative Council, has been shelved. The ostensible reason assigned for this course is that if the clause rendering the sale of lottery tickets illegal were brought into operation the convictions under it would be so numerous that the gaol would not contain all the prisoners. The Bill is accordingly to stand over until a Committee has reported on the capacity of the gael. We have never before seen the Legislative Council so remarkably cautious, and with so little cause That the tickets of the Manila and other lotteries would be sold after the passing of the Ordinance there can be no doubt, but the sales would not be made as a rule in view of the constable, and the number of convictions obtained, we have no besitation in saying, would form but an inappreciable increase in the number of prisoners ordinarily in confinement. In any case we are at a loss to conceive how the Committee can say whethe: the gaol will accommodate the sallers of lottery tickets or not until they have some basis to go upon in estimating what the number of convictions will be. The Hon. P. Ryriz was perfectly frank-inhis defence of the Manila lottery. He says he buys a ticket bimself now and then, and by some requirement of proof of guilt it he does not see why the sale should be stopped. There are, we imagine, very few of the subject. persons in the colony who do not sail in the same boat with Mr. RYRIE, so far as huying tickets is concerned, but at the same time the general concensus of opinion must condemn the lottery as being against public policy and a thing which ought to be condemned Singapore for this port on Wednesday. by the Government, always supposing that gambling in any form is recognised as a fair Scales of Commissions and Charges adopted by it should be lawful for his employer to yamble in a lottery. Indeed the Manila lottery is vastly more opposed to public policy than twenty-five per cent., which goes out of and is absolutely lost to the colony, while in funtan the commission charged by the keepof closely-printed matter, to which reference is the tables is ten per cent, and the money merely changes bands and remains in the colony. The Manila lettery is a form of gambling affected by the well-to-do classes. while funtan is played by the poorer classes; both are equally gambling, and the Government can bardly condone in the rich what it Hall, from to-day till Monday next between ten condemns in the poor.

If Mr. Ryzzz's argument be followed out to its logical conclusion, and if there be no harm in the Manila lottery, why should not the Government derive a revenue from this source itself, instead of allowing a foreign Government to derive it? The profit made by the Philippine Government from the Manila lottery is somewhere about $500,000 per annum, of which a very large proportion is derived from this colony. If a lottery were started by the Hongkong Govern- posal of the French Minister who, we hear, is ment probably it a few years' time the proceeding to Kerez to conclude a Treaty. profits would reach a similar figure, and we could pay for our defences, for the water. Acting Captain Superintendent. We believe we are correct in saying that this list was prepared by Chinese, and that there was no reason to suppose that the men mentioned were in any way concorned in the riots beyoud the fact that they were said to belong to the Triad Society, and even of this no proof was taken. It was sufficient for any man at that time to say that so and so was a member of the Triad Society to secure his banish ment, and there can be little doubt the occasion was seized in more than one instance to gratify private revenge in that way. If the real instigators of the riot could have been banished it would have been an excellent thing, but no good can come of banishing men against whom there is no proof of guilt beyond the mere word of a paid informer The provision giving the Governor power to banish appears to us to be a necessary one to maintain, but if it could be hedged about would be more consistent with the intereste

AMATEUR DRAMATIC PERFORM-ANCE AT THE THEATRE ROYAL. The Hongkong Amateur Dramatic Club gave their third performance of the season at the Theatre Royal, City Hall, on Wednesday night before a moderately filled house, which included a regular pyramid of glass bottles, &c. The His Excellency the Acting Governor and Mrs. Marsh. The counter attraction offered by Chiarini's Circus, which opened for the first time that night, and the fact that one of the pieces had recently been produced here before were sufficient to account for the attendance being smaller than is usually the case at the A.D.C. performances. The first part of the vonrite here, gave some capital equestrian acts, programme consisted of the performance of Mr. after which the Zetina Family went through Palgrave Simpson's comedy in one act entitled "Heads or Tails," a light and sketchy trifle through some remarkable evolutions. PEKING.

The race for wealth is keen up here and for a place not opened to trade the amount of business put through is something quite remarkable. Ministers and Secretaries have had a splendid time for many years among the curios, and some of them have furnished their nests well with the spoils of the capital, but of late years the unmitigated trader—one cannot call him "legitimate" in Peking-has been having his innings, and the cry is still they come. Meeting seven cartloads of curios in the street the other day, I was curious enough to enquire whence and whither? and was informed they were bought by orders of an American millionaire in Japan, who employed an agent here simply to sweep the market of everything for which money would be accepted. In this miraculous draught, no doubt some very fine fish will be found, but it speaks well for the rapid development of American taste for old chinaware. that such an order could be given by a man who

The question of draft can easily be brought about by using steel in the construction of the engines. builers, hull, etc., by which strength is combined with lightness. Twin-serew propulsion, and great beam, would most likely be the best form of steamer to construct. The engines could be built on the triple-expansion system, by which a great saving of coal and space is effected. Two busts should be built, and should leave Hankow and Ichang on schedule time, and should arrive at these respective parts on the schedule time. This would give confidence in them to native merchants, who would thus be sure of their shipments arriving as advised. Trade would increase, and the country above Ichang would be more opened up. There are no difficulties attending the naviga-

Intricate channels and dangerous rocks there are none, or at least very few, and the dangers of navigation are no more than they are on any ordinary river. Of the river above Ichang we do not speak. It is known to be most difficult of unvigation and if boats were to be run to Chungking, they would have to be of special construction, and of speed not less than 20 miles per hour. The risks, too, would be considerable. But on the Hankow-Ichang line! no such difficulties are to be found. The curthis only during floods. An average of about two-and-half, or three miles, is the general flow, sometimes even less. It will thus be seen that the question of running boats between these two ports is very easily solved, and if those tain of trade in the Szechnen district by running proper boats to Ichang, they would find their profits would soon be in excess of their most sanguine expectations. The country above Ichang is without doubt the richest in China musk, silk, wax, tip, copper, saltpetre, coal of splendid quality, valuable medicines, etc., etc. This deserves the attention of our local steamfor the enterprise of the great Chinese Company | Fort St. George. that has had control of this trade since it opened, and has not been able to put better boats on this fierce wind on snow is remarkably illustrated by line than those they have had running. With regard to the commerce that, with British energy in her woman's attire, for it is not worth while and Chiurse goodwill, would be carried on across the frentier separating China from Burmah, my Chinese informant described it as a trade which must, so long as a good understanding exists between China and England, go on constantly increasing, and to which it would be quite impossible to assign any limit. In its early stages, however, that commerce would mainly consist in the importation into the Yunnan of cotton stuffs, woollen goods, and hardware, and of the
